INTRODUCTION

ARL Preservation Statistics 1999-2000 presents data from 122 U.S. and Canadian research libraries that were members of the Association of Research Libraries during the 1999-2000 fiscal year.¹ The ARL membership consisted of 112 university libraries and 10 independent research libraries (public or private) in 1999-2000.

Major Findings

Among the significant developments that took place in research libraries in the 1980s was the emergence of preservation programs as distinct administrative units: separately staffed, funded, and administered. Since 1987-88 the number of programs managed by a preservation administrator has grown irregularly from 66 to around 80 in more recent years.² However, a fluctuating growth in preservation expenditures and staffing accompanied this development (see the "Summary of Preservation" data tables on pages 12 and 13).

These rapidly shifting trends have made themselves evident in many categories. Preservation expenditures for ARL's 110 reporting member libraries were $85,842,245 in 1999-2000, indicating a slow, irregular increase in expenditures for preservation since 1991-92.³ Total preservation staff decreased slightly to approximately 1,753 FTEs in 1999-2000, after rising well above 1,900 FTEs in the mid-1990s. Among the types of conservation treatment, Level 1 decreased slightly last year, Level 2 increased slightly, and Level 3 roughly doubled. After a sharp increase in 1998-99, microfilming activity dropped just as sharply to 87,531 bound volumes, the smallest amount since 1990. Graph 1, below, shows that with the exception of the spike in 1998-99, microfilming activity has steadily decreased since 1995.

Graph 1: Bound Volumes Microfilmed

² Figures revised to accommodate the new definition of preservation administrator -- since 1994-95, a preservation administrator has been defined as one who "spends at least 25% of his or her time managing a partial or comprehensive preservation program."

External funding

Availability of external funds plays a critical role in preservation activities. In 1988, the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) began a multi-year, expanded cooperative preservation microfilming program, in which ARL libraries have participated extensively. However, it appears that cuts in the NEH budget also have negatively affected availability of external funding for preservation, which fell constantly from a high of $11,090,547 in 1992-93 to a low of $4,917,732 in 1997-98, before slowly increasing to $7,128,397 in 1999-2000.

Analysis of Core Data for All Reporting Libraries

1. Organizational Structure

a. Preservation Administration

The most significant means for measuring the progress of ARL libraries in their preservation efforts is to track the existence of preservation programs managed by a preservation administrator. The data offer persuasive evidence that preservation programs have become a standard unit in research libraries, although there have not been any increases in the number of new programs established. As displayed in Table 1, 77 institutions indicated that the library has appointed a preservation administrator, and, of those, 61 libraries reported that their preservation programs are managed by a full-time preservation administrator.

Table 1. Administration of Preservation Programs

Full-time preservation administrator	61 (55.45%)
Part-time preservation administrator who devotes 50% or more time to preservation activities, but not 100%	12 (10.91%)
Part-time preservation administrator who devotes 25% to 50% of time to preservation activities	4 (3.64%)
Preservation administrator with less than 25% of time to preservation activities or no preservation administrator	33 (30.0%)

b. Reporting Relationships

While most ARL libraries have separate preservation units, their placement is far from uniform. The 77 responses to the question on reporting relationships show that more than a third of the preservation administrators report to the library director or associate library director (or an equivalent position, such as dean of libraries, etc.). The next most frequently found organizational pattern is a reporting relationship to the assistant/associate director for collection management. The third most-cited reporting relationship is to the assistant/associate director for technical services. The remaining libraries chose a variety of organizational options, including placing the preservation administrator within special collections, public services, or administrative services. Although the placement of preservation departments within the library structure varies, with few exceptions, the preservation administrator reports to senior library management.

³ This trend is different than that explained in the ARL Preservation Statistics 1998-99, due to a typographical error in that publication's "Summary of Preservation" data table, which understated total preservation expenditures for ARL libraries in 1997-98 by roughly $20 million. All trends noted here cite correct data. See the data table "Summary of Preservation, 1996-97 to 1999-2000" on page 13.

Director of Libraries/ Associate Director	27 (35.1%)
Assistant/ Associate Director for Collection Management	24 (31.2%)
Assistant/ Associate Director for Technical Services	14 (18.2%)
Assistant/ Associate Director for Public Services	4 (5.2%)
Other	8 (10.4%)

2. Personnel

The size of the staff reporting to the preservation administrator is a key factor in defining a library's level of preservation program development. Table 3, below, displays the relation between number of professional staff FTE and the number of support staff FTE and student assistant FTE in preservation units (a total of 77 programs reported). The preservation administrator is included in the number of professional staff.

Reporting accurate statistics regarding the number of FTE staff engaged in preservation activities library-wide has always been problematic. The variety and complexity of organizational structures make collecting the data a time-consuming and difficult burden for libraries. Even in libraries with large-scale preservation departments, the data show that there are preservation aspects in the work of almost every library unit and that preservation is a library-wide responsibility. The more decentralized preservation activities are, the more scattered preservation staff becomes, and thus providing accurate data is all the more difficult. Given these caveats, Table 4 shows the medians of staff in preservation programs, library-wide (with 110 libraries reporting data).

3. Expenditures

The financial support for preservation activities in ARL university libraries ranged from approximately $130,000 to more than $4.7 million during fiscal year 1999-2000. As a corollary, ARL university libraries spent between a fraction of one percent and roughly 8% of their total budgets on preservation.

Table 5 summarizes preservation expenditures by displaying the midpoint for three ranges for all reporting ARL libraries, including the Library of Congress, which alone spent almost $11.3 million on its preservation programs. Table 5 also indicates corresponding median preservation expenditures as a percentage of total operating expenditures and as a percentage of materials expenditures.

Graph 2, above, highlights the allocation of preservation expenditures, based on data from all reporting ARL libraries. Local needs and capabilities will determine the exact allocation of budgetary resources to various activities, but it is useful to look at the aggregate apportionment for ARL member libraries. The typical trends still hold true, with salaries and wages being the most costly category.

4. Conservation Treatment

Conservation treatments encompass an array of activities as defined in the instructions that accompanied the survey. Beginning in 1989-90, the amount of time required to complete conservation treatments has been used (i.e., “treatments that require 15 minutes or less to perform”, “more than 15 minutes but less than 2 hours”, and “more than 2 hours”). While the resulting data tell only how long the treatments take rather than how technically complex they are, results are more reliable and do not invite facile assumptions about the nature of an institution’s conservation program. The table below provides information on the number of volumes that received minor (Level 1) treatment and the number of volumes that were given more time-consuming intermediate (Level 2) and major (Level 3) conservation treatment. It is recognized that significant differences exist in the nature of treatments performed.

5. Preservation Reformatting

This section was revised substantially in 1997-98⁴ and, as a result, a number of libraries were not able to provide complete data in recent years. Preservation reformatting questions distinguish between reformatting of (a) bound volumes/pamphlets, (b) single, unbound sheets, and (c) photographs and non-paper items (e.g., audio tapes, motion picture film). Preservation reformatting for (a) bound volumes and (b) single sheets tracks three processes: photocopying, microfilming, and digitizing.

⁴ The survey was revised to address identified problems with the earlier versions of the questionnaire and to ask for new data elements (this year in the form of optional questions). All critical data elements have been retained so libraries can continue to track comparable information over the past decade. In particular, the questionnaire was revised in the following manner:

- In the “conservation treatment,” “commercial binding,” and “preservation reformatting” categories, breakdowns identifying “in-house” vs. “contract” treatments have been eliminated and a composite figure is requested. This change eliminates half of the data categories while retaining all significant data. Outsourcing continues to be captured in the “expenditures” section of the survey, as in earlier versions.
- Confusion regarding photographs and non-paper items (e.g., audio tapes, motion picture film) has been eliminated by separating “conservation” (repair of the original – question #19) from reformatting (copying of the original – question #24).
- For the purposes of streamlining, questions involving the number of titles and number of frames microfilmed have been eliminated, and a single measure of accomplishment – “number of volumes filmed” – has been retained. Data categories for microfilm and microfiche have been collapsed.
- The microfilming of unbound sheets (manuscripts, archives) has been broken out from bound-volume filming to yield clear, meaningful statistics. The same holds true for photocopying.
- Two optional questions regarding digitizing have been added (“number of bound volumes/pamphlets digitized” and “number of single, unbound sheets [manuscripts, maps, photographs] digitized”). In the instructions for the survey, “digitizing for preservation purposes” has been broadly defined.

ARL Preservation Statistics actually underreports total production of microfilming among ARL members because the reporting of preservation microfilming production remains problematic. Although the best indicator of preservation microfilming output is the total number of exposures or number of frames filmed, many libraries failed to report this figure in the past. So, the survey was recently revised to track only volumes, rather than titles and exposures. The total number of volumes reported over the last 10 years is charted in Graph 1. A total of 87,531 volumes microfilmed were reported this year. A separate question tracks single, unbound sheets microfilmed, which totals 6,214,507 in 1999-2000.

As digitizing bound volumes is still emerging as a preservation option, few libraries report data about it in this survey. In 1998-99, only 25 libraries reported more than zero bound volumes digitized, which increased slightly to 33 libraries in 1999-2000. The numbers reported vary widely, from single-digit amounts in several institutions to 13,020 volumes digitized for the University of Michigan.

Analysis of Core Data by Size of Collection

This section analyzes the organizational, fiscal, and functional components of preservation programs in relation to collection size. Many factors – including the age, nature and scope of the collection, the environmental conditions under which the collections have been housed, and the level of use – shape the ways in which a library’s preservation program develops. However, size of collection is the most important factor in measuring the level of preservation effort.

In 1991, ARL published preservation program benchmarks for selected core activities in the Preservation Program Models report.⁵ The benchmarks were intended to serve as indicators of the level of effort that can be expected as a library’s preservation program develops. The benchmarks reflect targets and are a useful tool for measuring progress toward meeting preservation needs. The tables in this section parallel the four size groupings of ARL libraries used in the Preservation Program Models report.⁶ These are collections of more than 5 million volumes, 3 to 5 million volumes, 2 to 3 million volumes, and less than 2 million volumes. For each size grouping, the tables provide medians for personnel, budget, and production. In this report, median figures are used as indicators of the midpoint in the distribution at which values cluster. The medians offer a composite measure for assessing the scale of local effort based on four different size groupings. The benchmarks reflected an ideal progression of preservation program development, and provide a useful tool for comparing the level of preservation services needed with the current level of activities. Libraries interested in that comparison may wish to consult the Preservation Program Models report.

The size groupings and number of libraries in each category are:

Group 1:*	Over 5 million volumes (23 libraries)
Group 2:+	3 to 5 million volumes (28 libraries)
Group 3:#	2 to 3 million volumes (52 libraries)
Group 4:^	Under 2 million volumes (7 libraries)

The tables below summarize the responses in five categories for each of the four size groupings. Please note the following when reading the tables:

*	3 libraries in this group reported no Preservation Unit
+	8 libraries in this group reported no Preservation Unit

⁶ The libraries in each group are determined by data submitted to ARL Statistics 1999-2000 (Washington, DC: Association of Research Libraries, 2001).

Conclusion

ARL Preservation Statistics provides a broad range of quantitative data and should not be used as a measure of quality of preservation programs. Preservation efforts encompass a diverse array of activities, and there are substantial differences in the nature of preservation work. ARL Preservation Statistics cannot completely capture the richness, sheer variety, and full extent of each library's preservation commitment. Much progress has been achieved, however, in increasing the consistency and hence comparability of the reported quantitative data.

Most of the data contained in this publication are descriptive indices of preservation activities in research libraries, including preservation staffs, expenditures, and productivity. The data are also useful in determining the organization of preservation units and the components of preservation programs. Each library's total expenditures and materials expenditures, as reported in ARL Statistics 1999-2000, are displayed in the tables together with the percentage of preservation expenditures. To aid comparability in ARL Preservation Statistics, expenditures of Canadian libraries are expressed in U.S. dollars at the rate of 1.47192 Canadian dollars to one U.S. dollar. This exchange rate is the average monthly noon exchange rate published in the Bank of Canada Review for the period from July 1999 to June 2000. Expenditures reported in Canadian dollars are given in the "Footnotes to the ARL Preservation Statistics."

Those using ARL Preservation Statistics to compare activities in individual institutions will need to consult the definitions used in the instructions as well as the "Footnotes" section. Although the definitions and procedures used in the Preservation Statistics questionnaire aim to achieve consistency, variant reporting practices do exist among ARL libraries. Care should be taken in comparing this year's data to data collected in previous years, taking into account the revisions in the questionnaire described earlier in this introduction.

Again, all the data in this publication are quantitative and descriptive and are not indicative of qualitative factors. When comparing any individual library preservation program to ARL medians or to other ARL members, one must be careful to make such comparisons within the context of differing institutional and local goals and preservations needs.

4. Are there any additional footnotes? Yes _____ No _____

Please indicate revisions, additions, and deletions to the ARL Preservation Statistics 1998-99 footnotes. If any footnotes published last year are unchanged, please mark to indicate that they are still valid. Please strike through any footnotes that are no longer valid. The numbers refer to columns in the main data tables in the publication, e.g., I, 1-5 refers to columns 1-5 in Table I.

Please return a printed version of the completed questionnaire in addition to the Web version to the ARL Statistics and Measurement Program by December 1, 2000

Please contact Martha Kyrillidou at (202) 296-2296 or martha@arl.org for assistance.

ARL PRESERVATION STATISTICS QUESTIONNAIRE, 1999-2000

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING THE QUESTIONNAIRE

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Please enter your data on the ARL Statistics Website (access via <<http://www.arl.org/stats/coordinator.html>>) and provide a paper copy to use for data verification. Be sure to read these Instructions before beginning to input data.

Complete this form by December 1, 2000, and retain a copy of the worksheet for your records. If you have problems with this form or have questions about the procedure to be followed in completing the survey, contact the ARL Office.

Please read all instructions carefully before you answer the questionnaire. Make sure your responses are as complete and accurate as possible. Give estimates when you must, but please do not make wild guesses. Use the FOOTNOTES section to expand upon or clarify your responses.

All questions assume a fiscal year ending June 30, 2000. If your library's fiscal year is different, please use the FOOTNOTES section to explain.

Please complete all entries. If your library does not perform a given function or had no activity for this function, enter "0". If your library performs a function but data are not available, enter "-1" (for unavailable). Please leave no blank spaces.

Use the same basis for reporting as is used in responding to the main ARL Statistics questionnaire. For example, if in ARL Statistics you normally include data for a law library and/or a medical library, also include those libraries in response to this survey and note the inclusions within the FOOTNOTES section as prompted.

In a university that includes both main and branch campuses, an effort should be made to report figures for the main campus only. (The U.S. National Center for Education Statistics, Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) defines a branch institution as "a campus or site of an educational institution that is not temporary, is located in a community beyond a reasonable commuting distance from its parent institution, and offers organized programs of study, not just courses.") If figures for libraries located at branch campuses are reported, please provide an explanation in the "Footnotes" section of the questionnaire. A branch library is defined as an auxiliary library service outlet with quarters separate from the central library of an institution, which has a basic collection of books and other materials, a regular staffing level, and an established schedule. A branch library is administered either by the central library or (as in the case of some law and medical libraries) through the administrative structure of other units within the university. Departmental study/reading rooms are not included.

Preservation data are not always easy to define or to record in precise categories. If you have difficulty interpreting this questionnaire or are uncertain how its data categories apply in your situation, contact Julia Blixrud, ARL Senior Program Officer, (202) 296-2296; e-mail: jblix@arl.org.

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

For the purposes of this survey, the elements of a “preservation program” include: conservation treatment, commercial binding, and preservation reformatting. While shelf preparation activities (e.g., plating, labeling, insertion of security devices) and stack maintenance have obvious preservation implications and may be supervised by the preservation administrator, these activities are not quantified in this survey.

Question 1. Does the library have a preservation administrator who spends at least 25% of his or her time managing a partial or comprehensive preservation program?

Question 2. What percentage of the preservation administrator's total job assignment is dedicated to preservation activities? If the library has a full-time preservation administrator, general management activities (e.g., meeting attendance, committee participation) should be considered an integral part of the administrator’s responsibilities and the answer to this question recorded as 100%. In contrast, where the preservation administrator is a part-time staff member or has a dual assignment (e.g., she or he is also a serials librarian, bibliographer, or curator), the percentage of time devoted to preservation activities and preservation management should be recorded. If the library has no preservation administrator enter “0.”

Question 3. Record the job title (not the individual name) of the person to whom the preservation administrator reports (e.g., “Associate Director for Collection Development”). If the library has no preservation administrator enter “0.”

Questions 4-5. FTE (i.e., “Full-Time Equivalent”) is the numerical representation of full- and part-time work activities. A person working full time is represented by an FTE of 1.00; a person working half time by an FTE of 0.50. Five persons working half time are represented by a combined FTE of 2.50. The number of FTE staff should be determined on the basis of the length of the work week in the reporting library. Round figures to the nearest two decimal places.

Record FTE staff in filled positions or positions that are only temporarily vacant on the date that ends the library's fiscal year. Also record staff hired for special projects, internships, and grants, but provide an explanatory note in the FOOTNOTES section indicating the FTE of such staff. The FOOTNOTES section should also be used to record such information as the number of hours worked by volunteers (this figure is not recorded in the survey itself), and the number of months that a full-time position was vacant during the year.

Report trained professional conservators and photographers (senior practitioners—not technicians) in the “professional” category whether or not they have a master's degree in library studies.

Question 4. Only the preservation administrator and staff who report directly to him or her, or to someone supervised by him or her, should be recorded here. If the library has no preservation administrator, or if the administrator does not have direct line responsibility for staff, enter “0.”

Question 5. This figure includes staff who report to the preservation administrator, as recorded in Question 4, and staff outside the preservation unit who are involved in preservation activities. The following activities should be included regardless of the department or library to which staff report: conservation, preparation for commercial binding, all activities associated with preservation reformatting (including selection for preservation, searching, and cataloging), and service on preservation committees.

For staff members with dual assignments, record only that time devoted to preservation activities. For example, a student assistant who works 0.40 FTE and devotes half of his or her time to book repair and the rest to serials check-in would be recorded as 0.20 FTE.

Question 6-10. Report all expenditures, regardless of the source of funding (e.g., funds may come from the regular institutional budget, grants, or fees for services).

Canadian libraries should report expenditures only in Canadian dollars. These amounts will be translated into U.S. dollars using a conversion exchange rate of 1.5103 Canadian dollars to 1 U.S. dollar, which was determined using the average monthly noon exchange rate published in the Bank of Canada Review for the period July 1999 through June 2000.

Questions 6a-6c. Record salaries for staff reported in response to Question 5, the number of staff engaged in preservation activities library-wide. Do not include fringe benefits.

Question 6d. This answer is the sum of the answers to Questions 6a through 6c. Attach any footnotes for Questions 6a-6c here, as only this figure appears in the data reports.

Question 7. “Contract expenditures” refers to expenditures for preservation services for which the library is invoiced by an outside vendor, organization, or individual (e.g., a commercial library binder, commercial microfilming service, or professional conservator in private practice).

Question 7a.

Conservation: Refers to the remedial and protective treatment (both mechanical and chemical) of bound volumes, manuscripts, maps, posters, works of art on paper, photographic materials, magnetic tapes, and other library materials to restore them to usable condition and/or to extend their useful lives. Note that conservation involves preserving information in its original form. The reproduction of materials (e.g., the copying of information onto the same, similar, or new media) is recorded in the preservation reformatting section of this survey. Conservation also refers to the construction of protective enclosures (e.g., wrappers, jackets, boxes) for library materials. Use of archivally sound methods and materials is presumed.

Conservation encompasses a wide range of treatments, including pamphlet and paperback binding, temporary serials binding, tipping in inserts, making pockets for loose parts, slitting uncut pages, making paper repairs, removing tapes and stains, tightening hinges, replacing endpapers, rebacking, recasing, rebinding, repairing sewing structures before sending volumes out for commercial binding, and item-by-item and mass deacidification. Treatments range from minor procedures that can be done relatively quickly by technicians to major procedures that are chemically and mechanically complex and require the skill and judgment of a conservator.

Conservation may also include item-by-item treatment of materials damaged by water, fire, and mold. Because mass freeze drying and fumigation can involve very large numbers that would mask the size and nature of the in-house conservation effort, such activities are recorded in response to Question 7e, “other contract expenditures” and explained in the FOOTNOTES section, but are not recorded in response to Questions 12-16. Exhibit preparation is recorded as conservation activity when an item is treated (e.g., a print is cleaned), but not when a temporary support (e.g., a book cradle) is constructed to display an item. In the latter case, total FTE staff suffices as a measure of effort.

If fees paid to commercial binders for products and treatments other than library binding (e.g., for phase boxes) have been recorded on the main ARL Statistics 1999-2000 in response to Question 21, please note instructions for answering Question 7b, below.

Question 7b.

Commercial binding: Refers to the binding, rebinding, and recasing performed by commercial library binderies, as described in the Library Binding Institute Standard for Library Binding, 8th edition (Rochester: Library Binding Institute, 1986). Commercial library binderies use oversewing machines; Smythe-type sewing machines; double-fan adhesive binding equipment; and automated rounders and backers, hydraulic presses, and spine stamping equipment, in a high-production environment.

This figure should match the figure reported on the main ARL Statistics 1999-2000 survey in response to Question 21, unless the library purchases conservation services from a commercial library binder. Where fees have been paid to a commercial library binder for conservation services, record those fees in response to Question 7a herein. Subtract conservation fees from the dollar amount reported in response to Question 21 of the main ARL Statistics 1999-2000 and record the resulting figure in response to Question 7b herein. Explain the discrepancy between answers to Question 21 of the main ARL Statistics and Question 7b of the ARL Preservation Statistics in the FOOTNOTES section.

Question 7e. Other contract expenditures might include fees paid for commercial freeze-drying, fumigating, or mass-deacidification of library materials; membership fees for use of regional conservation facilities; or equipment repairs. If answers are recorded in response to optional Questions 22c and 23c (number of items digitized), record expenditures here. Use the FOOTNOTES section to note the amount and nature of major expenditures.

Question 7f. This answer is the sum of the answers to Question 7a through 7e.

Question 8. Supplies include materials used for conservation treatment (e.g., papers, book cloths, adhesives, pamphlet binders, box board, chemicals, disposable filters for water systems); commercially available archival quality boxes, wrappers, file folders, and envelopes; paper used for preservation photocopying and digitizing; and film, chemicals, and other supplies used for preservation microfilming. Expenditures for equipment and tools costing under $100 should be recorded here. Expenditures for security labels and stamps, book pockets, call number and bar code labels, and book plates fall outside the scope of this survey and should not be recorded.

Since housing of commercially available boxes, wrappers, folders, and envelopes can involve very large numbers that would mask the size and nature of the in-house conservation effort, the use of such supplies to protect books, manuscripts, maps, microfiche, photographs, videotapes, and other library materials is recorded only here—not in response to Questions 12-16.

Question 9. Record expenditures for equipment and tools costing over $100, such as machinery (e.g., board shears, fume hoods, microfilming cameras, photocopy machines and scanners exclusively used for preservation reformatting), furniture (e.g., laboratory benches, chemical supply cabinets), and computer hardware purchased for exclusive use by a preservation department for such purposes as conservation management, bindery preparation, and bibliographic searching related to preservation reformatting. Capital expenditures for building renovations (e.g., the construction of a conservation facility) or for construction that results in improved housing of library materials (such as replacement of heating, ventilating, and air conditioning systems) should be recorded only in the FOOTNOTES section.

Question 10. This answer is the sum of the answers to Questions 6d, 7f, 8, and 9. (At this time it is not possible to enter online the total independently of the component figures so be certain to record “0” in response to Questions 6d, 7f, 8, and/or 9 where no funds have been expended.)

Certain preservation-related expenses are not requested in this survey (e.g., the cost of staff training, conference attendance, and other staff development activities; printed brochures and posters; purchase of reference materials). If significant, these should be noted in the FOOTNOTES section.

Question 11. Record total preservation expenditures that were funded by external agencies in the form of grants. Funds allocated from the library's regular operating budget (including gifts, royalties, endowment income, and special funds provided to the library by its parent institution) are regarded as internal and should not be reflected here.

Questions 12-14. See definition of conservation under instructions for Question 7a above. Record the number of volumes (including pamphlets) given conservation treatment, not the total number of treatments performed. Answers to these questions should be mutually exclusive. While any given volume may receive several treatments, it should be recorded only once, as a Level 1, 2, or 3 treatment depending on the amount of time devoted to the volume. For example, when an errata sheet is tipped into a volume, three pages are repaired, and its hinges are tightened, and these procedures take a total of 25 minutes to perform, the volume should be recorded only once, as a Level 2 treatment. The repair of several pages of a volume or pamphlet should not be recorded under “unbound sheets” (Question 16), even if the volume is disbound at the time the pages are treated. Rather, treatment of the volume should be recorded once, as a Level 1, 2, or 3 book treatment, depending on the time required to perform all procedures.

When a volume receives conservation treatment and a box is made for it, however, the conservation should be recorded as a Level 1, 2, or 3 treatment, and the boxing should be recorded in response to Question 20 (number of custom-fitted protective enclosures constructed). Likewise, when two pages of a book are repaired and the book is sent to a commercial bindery, the volume should be recorded as a Level 1 conservation treatment and as a “commercial binding” (Question 21).

Because the nature of procedures and the level of in-house conservation expertise varies significantly across ARL libraries, treatments are recorded based on the length of time they require, time being a meaningful and comparable measure of effort. Use of archivally sound methods and materials is presumed.

Question 12. Level 1 conservation treatments require 15 minutes or less to perform.

Question 13. Level 2 treatments require more than 15 minutes but less than two hours to perform.

Question 14. Level 3 conservation treatments require two hours or more to perform. Where an extraordinary number of hours is required to treat selected items, this information can be recorded in the FOOTNOTES section.

Question 15. This answer is the sum of answers to Questions 12-14. Report the total number of volumes, including pamphlets, that were treated—not the total number of treatments performed.

Question 16. Unbound sheets include items such as manuscripts, maps, posters, and works of art on paper. Procedures include a variety of mechanical and chemical treatments (e.g., paper repair, surface cleaning, washing, deacidifying, encapsulating, mounting, matting) that lengthen the life of the item. Use of archivally sound methods and materials is presumed. Report the total number of sheets of paper that were treated—not the total number of treatments performed.

Questions 17-18.

Mass deacidification is a process by which books and papers are treated to neutralize acidity and to introduce an alkaline buffer. Materials are deacidified in batches, in chambers that hold several (or many) items.

Item-by-item deacidification of bound volumes and papers, performed by conservators and technicians, should be recorded in response to Questions 12-16.

Question 19. Record conservation treatment of photographic materials here, including photographs printed on paper, glass, plastics, and other materials. “Non-paper items” include materials other than bound volumes, unbound paper, and photographs. Treatment of non-paper items might include such activities as conserving globes, cleaning videotapes, and repairing motion picture film. Report activities such as remastering videotapes, copying photographs, re-recording sound, and other activities involving duplication of media in response to Question 24 (number of photographs and non-book/paper items reformatted).

Question 20. Custom-fitted enclosures are distinguished from the commercially available boxes and other enclosures identified in Question 8 as “supplies,” in that the former are custom-made to fit their contents and the latter are standard-sized enclosures available through supply catalogs. Custom-fitted enclosures include paper and polyester book jackets, paper and board wrappers, portfolios, phase boxes, double-tray boxes, and other boxes. (Polyester encapsulation of single sheets should be reported in response to Question 16—not here.) Use of archival quality methods and materials is presumed.

Question 21. See definition of commercial binding under instructions for Question 7b above. Record all volumes (including pamphlets) bound or rebound by a commercial bindery.

Questions 22-23. “Number of bound volumes/pamphlets” refers to the reformatting of volumes in their entirety (i.e., each page is copied to produce a facsimile volume in paper, on film, or in digital form). “Number of unbound pages” refers to the sum of the number of full pages copied. For a manuscript written on one side of a sheet, record one page. For a manuscript written on two sides of a sheet, record two pages. For one frame of film that captures one page, record one page. For one frame of film that captures two pages, record two pages.

Preservation photocopying refers only to items photocopied on paper that has a minimum pH of 7.5, a minimum alkaline reserve equivalent to 2% calcium carbonate based on oven-dry weight of the paper, and includes no groundwood or unbleached pulp. Images must be properly fused to the paper.

Preservation microfilming presumes adherence to relevant American National Standards Institute (ANSI) and Association for Information and Image Management (AIIM) standards as well as microfilming guidelines published by the Research Libraries Group and National Library of Canada.

For microfilming, record data only for first-generation microforms. For a monographic set of three volumes, record three volumes; for thirty volumes in a serial run record thirty volumes. Include data for projects that are undertaken cooperatively with other libraries, but not for commercial projects wherein a commercial vendor borrows library materials for filming and subsequent sale of the film. When the library serves as a commercial microfilming vendor for another institution, this filming should be reported by the library that contracts for the filming—not by the library that does the filming. Dissertations that are sent to UMI for filming should not be recorded.

Record preservation microform masters produced by copying non-archival or damaged film, or produced from digitized text. Use the FOOTNOTES section to indicate the scope and nature of such activity.

Digitizing for preservation purposes is the reproduction of bound volumes, pamphlets, unbound sheets, manuscripts, maps, posters, works of art on paper, and other paper-based materials for the purpose of:

- a) making duplicate copies that replace deteriorated originals (e.g., by digitizing texts and storing them permanently in electronic form and/or printing them on alkaline paper);
 - b) making preservation master copies and thus guarding against irretrievable loss of unique originals (e.g., by making high-resolution electronic copies of photographs and storing them permanently and/or printing them; or
 - c) making surrogate copies that can be retrieved and distributed easily, thereby improving access to information resources without exposing original materials to excessive handling;
- or some combination of these factors.

Record the total number of items that were digitized—not the total number of versions of these items that were created. Where a photograph is scanned and printed, a low resolution image mounted on the World Wide Web, and images having higher resolution recorded on CD-ROM, report one photograph digitized.

Question 24. Refers to the copying of all types of photographs, and non-paper media such as audio tapes, videotapes, various types of disks, and motion picture film for preservation purpose (see instructions for digitizing for preservation purposes, above). A photograph copied using a 35mm. camera is an analog reproduction; a photograph copied using a digital camera is a digital reproduction.

Footnotes. Libraries are urged to use the FOOTNOTES section to report any information that would clarify the figures submitted. Explanatory footnotes will be included with the published statistics. Please make an effort to word footnotes in a manner consistent with notes appearing in the published report so that the ARL Office can interpret them correctly. For your convenience, a copy of your footnotes from the ARL Preservation Statistics 1998-99 is included with the printed copy of the questionnaire. Please update these notes indicating whether or not the notes are still valid. (Note that the numbers on the printed worksheet refer to the columns in the main data tables, e.g. I-5 is line 5 in Table I in the published Preservation Statistics. If you add new footnotes, please number them to correspond to numbered questions in the questionnaire.

Please submit the data to the Web site and return a printed version of the completed questionnaire to the ARL Statistics and Measurement Program by December 1, 2000. Please contact Martha Kyrillidou at (202) 296-2296 or martha@arl.org for assistance.

Major papers, 1999 (microfiche); South China Culture Review, 1993-1998(microfilm); British Columbia Directories, 1955-1960 (microfilm).
	23b	Includes: Malcolm Lowry Collection Microfilming Project, Phase 3 (microfilm).
BROWN		Includes John Carter Brown Library.
		Includes Medical library statistics that cannot be disaggregated from the main statistics because the Medical collection is an integral part of the Sciences Library.
	11	Includes funds from NEH Preservation Endowment.
CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY	7b	Includes expenditures for the Law library and affiliated libraries. Excluding those libraries, the Berkeley library spent $765,294 on library binding.

INSTITUTION NAME	QUESTION NUMBER	FOOTNOTE
CALIFORNIA, DAVIS	7b	Excludes contract binding for Law included in figure for contract binding (21) in the ARL Statistics 1999-2000 .
	7c	Includes commercially available reprints purchased to replace existing brittle volumes.
CALIFORNIA, IRVINE		Includes Medical library.
	10	1998-99 figure revised to 442,450 to correct a mathematical error.
	23b	Figures represent pages of newspapers.
CALIFORNIA, LOS ANGELES	7b	ARL Statistics 1999-2000 contract binding (21) includes $40,000 reported in contract conservation (7a) and $34,673 reported in supplies (8). As a result, the figure reported is not the same as reported in (21) of the ARL Statistics .
CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO	2	Includes Biomedical Library and Medical Center Library.
	6	In the 1998-99 ARL Preservation Statistics , $19,710 was reported as a part of professional staff expenditures (6a) when it should have been reported as a part of support staff expenditures (6b).
CALIFORNIA, SANTA BARBARA	1	UCSB has a "preservation coordinator," who spends 20% of her time on preservation matters. The preservation coordinator reports to the AUL for Collections and Technical Services. However, because this person spends only 20% of her time on preservation, she is not, by ARL definition, a "preservation administrator."
CASE WESTERN RESERVE		Includes Law, Medical, and Social Science libraries.
	7e	Includes contract mass-deacidification ($1,765), CD and microfilm master storage drawer rental ($237), and contract digitization ($75).
CHICAGO		Includes Law and Medical libraries.
	7b, 21	Includes phase boxes and rebinds of existing materials in the collection.
CINCINNATI		Includes Raymond Walters College and Clermont College.
	1	Medical Center Libraries do not have a preservation administrator.
	2	75% of the administrator's job at University Libraries is dedicated to preservation; 25% of the administrator's job in the Law library is dedicated to preservation.
	3	Head, Access Services Division is the job title at University Libraries; Head, Information Management is the job title at the Law library.
COLORADO	3	Excludes Law library. Law library was also excluded in 1998-99; footnotes mistakenly reported that it was included.
	4	1.0 FTE Professional Staff has been vacant throughout 1999-2000.

INSTITUTION NAME	QUESTION NUMBER	FOOTNOTE
	5	0.07 FTE Professional Staff dedicated to preparing digitization project.
	7b	No longer includes Law library binding expenditures. This figure does not match the figure for contract binding (21) in the ARL Statistics 1999-2000 because contracted conservation treatment was not separated out of the figure in the ARL Statistics .
	8	Large increase is due in part to off-site storage project and perhaps by a greater success at researching preservation supply purchases library-wide. Figure is an estimate due to change in accounting software (Peoplesoft).
	9	Includes equipment (scanners, etc.) purchased for a digitization project in Music library. This project began preparations in 1999-2000 but did not produce any preservation digital copies in 1999-2000 and grant monies were not yet spent. Also, includes scanner for Special Collections. Not included is Media library purchase of equipment enabling them to do preservation quality reformatting; however, it is primarily used for course preparation work.
	19	A large project to replace sleeves for microfiche with acid-free sleeves has begun.
	21	No longer includes Law library commercially bound volumes.
COLORADO STATE	4a	One temporary administrative professional at .50 FTE and one temporary faculty at .25 FTE.
	11	Total does not include expenditures from external sources: Acceptance ($43,606); RAP ($714); permanent administrative professional ($4,013).
COLUMBIA	5d	Includes 13.16 FTE staff hired by Special Projects, Internships, and Grants.
	7a	Includes protective enclosures produced by contract conservators.
	7b	Figure does not match the figure for contract binding (21) in ARL Statistics 1999-2000 . Current figure has been adjusted to exclude $57,754 for custom-made enclosures paid for through binding accounts, but included in contact conservation (7a), and $16,007 included in preservation supplies (8). Also excluded are $48,750 of Law library expense and $83,708 of Health Sciences library expense.
	7d	Includes $157,757 for NEH Modern Economic & Social History project.
	7e	Includes $82,090 for NEH Modern Economic & Social History project cataloging and filming preparation. The remainder of the expense is for preservation copying of audiotapes and movie film.
	24a	1,355 represents number of hours of audio tapes reformatted.
CONNECTICUT		Includes branch campuses at Avery Point, Stamford, Torrington, Waterbury, and West Hartford.
	7b	Excludes $10,484 for commercially-made boxes included in contract conservation (7a) and $44 for contract preservation photocopying (7c) from the figure reported for contract binding (21) in ARL Statistics 1999-2000 .

APPENDIX A

ARL Member Libraries as of June 1, 2002

The Association of Research Libraries (ARL) represents the interests of 123 libraries that serve major North American research institutions. ARL operates as a forum for the exchange of ideas and as an agent for collective action to influence the forces affecting the ability of these libraries to meet the future needs of scholarship. The ARL Statistics and Measurement program is organized around identifying, collecting, analyzing, and distributing quantifiable information describing the characteristics of research libraries. The program offers publications and special member services, and collaborates with other national and international library statistics programs. Data collected include salaries, library holdings, expenditures, staff, interlibrary lending, and preservation activities.
